Dulles Asks Patience, Israel Would Talk

Dispute Seen Coming About Council Agenda

Washington, Sept. 26 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles predicted today that Egypt will not be able to "get away with" single handed operation of the Suez Canal. He appealed to disputing nations for "patience and resourcefulness" in dealing with the canal crisis.

Dulles was asked at a news conference whether he thought there would be Arab efforts to nationalize the great Middle East oil fields "if Egypt gets away with" its seizure of the canal.

Sees Economic Pressure

He replied that he did not accept the possibility that Egypt was going to get away with it.

Dulles then said that through such things as the loss of tourist revenue and trade, due to declining faith in this way of doing business, Egypt would come to recognize that it would have to work out a different solution for the canal.

New Complication

United Nations, N. Y., Sept. 26 (AP)—A new complication was injected into the Suez dispute today when Israel asked permission to take part in Security Council discussions.

The Israeli request came as Britain and France squared off for a preliminary test of strength with Egypt at the start of the debate.

It also came as fighting flared between Israel and Jordan.

An Israeli spokesman made it clear that Israel would steer clear of this issue and concentrate on the Suez problem, but western diplomats feared the Israeli request would be followed by similar requests from Arab countries.

Shipping Causes Trouble

Israel claimed special interest on the Suez problem because of Egyptian restrictions on Israeli shipping.

The first clash, however, was expected when Britain and France ask the council to block an Egyptian move to place on the agenda a charge that the two European powers threaten world peace by their actions in the Suez crisis.

The British-French stand was expected to trigger a sharp procedural debate over just what should be on the council's agenda and how it should approach the bitter dispute over Egyptian President Nasser's nationalization of the strategic east-west waterway.

Should Get Sign

By the time the opening round is concluded, there should be some indication which way the

Get Off Hands, Ives Tells Club

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—U. S. Sen. Irving M. Ives told a meeting of 1,000 Republican women yesterday that the GOP has a "tough fight" in the presidential campaign and the results in New York state, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut possibly will determine the outcome.

"Let's not be pessimistic," Ives added in a speech at a luncheon sponsored by the Women's National Republican Club. We're going to win this election, but we're not going to win it by sitting on our hands."

Ives spoke in praise of Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits, Republican candidate for U. S. senator and former congressman.

Ives told the women that what he called "smear" attacks against Javits should spur them to do "a bigger job than ever" in behalf of his campaign.

Farm Votes Wooed By Two Candidates

Ike Labels Foes' Program 'Mockery'; Stevenson Questions Soil Bank Funds

(By The Associated Press)

President Eisenhower loosed his most sharply worded campaign attack to date last night, accusing Democrats of "politicking at the farmers' expense" and of handing farmers a program of "mockery and deceit." Adlai Stevenson, his Democratic opponent, in turn called on Eisenhower to say whether he has "heard about loose administration of the soil bank to pour money into the farm belt" ahead of the November election.

Ike Talks in Peoria

Eisenhower spoke last night in Peoria, Ill., presenting the Republican side of the farm controversy in a nationally broadcast and televised speech.

Stevenson framed his question in an address for delivery in Jacksonville, Fla., today, after a busy day of campaigning yesterday in Arkansas, Louisiana and Florida.

Eisenhower told the nation's farmers his administration will give them "a full share in our country's good time." He said farmers now face "brighter peacetime prospects than they have had for years."

He made no new proposals to increase farm income but said "good progress" is being made toward that goal with present programs and planned expansions.

Ridicules Criticism

Ridiculing Democratic criticisms of his farm policy, Eisenhower said at one point "our opponents today are criticizing the mess that they themselves left behind."

Stevenson, speaking of the soil bank created by Congress this year in an effort to reduce crop surpluses, asked:

"Is it possible that the President has not heard about the loose administration of the soil

Kiwanis Club to Sponsor 11th Annual Kapers October 22, 23

The 11th annual Kiwanis Kapers show will be staged at Kingston High School auditorium Monday and Tuesday evenings, October 22 and 23. Curtain time each night is 8:15.

Since the inception of the present Kapers series, the Kiwanis Club of Kingston has distributed $14,450 in scholarships for boys and girls out of proceeds of the show. To date 50 boys and 26 girls have been aided.

Number and amounts of the scholarships have varied over the years. This year four boys' scholarships worth $350 each and four girls' nurse training scholarships worth $100 each were awarded from the proceeds of the 1955 Kapers show. In addition, the club awarded a $200 scholarship out of proceeds of a fund left to the club for that purpose by the late Morris Samter, a past president of the Kiwanis club.

In addition to its major project of scholarships, the club also sponsors a team in the Fraternal Youth Baseball League, helps the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Clinic, buys chicks for 4-H Club youngsters and donates to many youth agencies.

All money received from the public for tickets to the Kapers goes directly into the club's Kiwanis Kiwanis Foundation, Inc. for scholarship and youth welfare work. The production costs are more than met by the club members themselves through the purchase of patrons' tickets.

H. Van Wyck Darrow, first vice-president of the Kiwanis club, is chairman of the Kapers committee. Harry Rigby, Jr., Maynard Mizel, John McCullough, Christopher D. Morris and Bernard A. Feeney, Sr., are

Jurors Meet Monday

Plans for the banquet will be discussed during the regular monthly meeting of the association next Monday, Oct. 1, at the Court House, at 8 p. m. President Murphy has requested a full attendance of members.

In addition to County Judge Bruhn, long an ardent supporter of the juror's association, other county officials expected to be on hand include:

District Attorney Howard C. St. John and his assistants, Federal Judge John M. Cashin and former County Judge William A. Kelly.

This will be Judge Bruhn's second recent guest appearance before the jurors in the role of a

Israel Calls Raid Grim Warning on Aggression

Jerusalem, Sept. 26 (AP)—A punitive raid into Jordan by artillery-backed Israeli infantrymen, the third of its kind this month, set off a seven-hour battle that ended at dawn today with heavy casualties on each side.

Israeli spokesmen said 50 Jordanians were killed in the raid on army and police positions near Husan, six miles southwest of Jerusalem. Israeli acknowledged 5 of the raiders were killed and 19 wounded.

Report 100 Killed

Jordanian army officers in Amman, the Arab kingdom's capital, declared 100 or more of the Israelis were killed and the rest forced to retreat in disorder after blowing up a police post and some houses. By their account, 31 Jordanian soldiers, policemen and national guardsmen lost their lives as the fighting raged through attack and counterattack.

Jordan said the Israeli attack was made in brigade strength, meaning perhaps 2,000 or more infantrymen took part in the raid 2½ miles inside the armistice demarcation line. Jordanians had estimated Israeli strength in each of the two previous attacks this month at 1,000 men.

Israel's government grimly labeled the raid as a warning against aggression, "an effort to bring home to Jordan authorities their own interests in putting an end to attacks against Israeli citizens and Israel territory." Six Israelis had been killed in border incidents since Sunday.

Explosions Continue

The Israeli army said a Jordanian army post as well as the police station was overrun and dynamited. Explosions from the battle were heard in Jerusalem through the night.

Jordan Army Headquarters told of the finding of the bodies of 10 Israelis, including one captain, near Husan and Boosted its estimate of the Israeli death toll to around 100.

Unconfirmed Jordanian reports said 60 tanks, as well as field guns, had supported the Israeli rifle companies.

A newsman returning to Amman from the battleground quoted eyewitnesses as saying the Israelis removed many of their casualties in the predawn hours under searchlights plied from heavy tanks.

Israel's reprisal policy stirred diplomatic attention in Britain, which has been preoccupied with the Suez crisis, and in Syria, linked with Jordan in an alliance to combat what the Arabs call Israeli aggression.

Raid Denounced

The British Foreign Office expressed sympathy for Israel over what it called the irresponsible shooting from the Jordanian side that killed four members of an archaeological party at Jerusalem Sunday, then denounced the Israeli raid.

"Her Majesty's government deplores all reprisals and must express once again their condemnation of a policy based on them," the foreign office said. A spokesman explained: "What we are now condemning is the Israeli government's declared policy of carrying out reprisals."

Syria's cabinet met in emergency session in Damascus to discuss "necessary measures" in the Jordanian-Israeli situation. Syria recently posted a mobile military division near Jordan's border. Military officials said

Parking Close To Stores Is Kurdt's Subject

The value of parking space in the vicinity of retail stores was cited by Albert C. Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, in an address before the annual convention of the New York State Council of Retail Merchants at Grossinger's.

Figures in Income

Such space near a store can be measured in actual income to that store, Mr. Kurdt said, pointing out that a "sore spot" in many communities was the practice of merchants or employees who "feed parking meters."

Mr. Kurdt told some 500 persons attending the convention that "we know of store owners and managers who influence the cop on the beat not to give them tickets, with the threat of withholding an ad or something, and some who give him nickels to put in his meter."

Retailers Must Help

"Let's face it. We have that problem. Perhaps some of you folks do too. If you do, retailers themselves must help solve it. Why? It's worth about $20,000 a year in retail business to the stores within 100 feet of a parking space, if there is a regular turnover of cars. This makes a

Flossy Moves Out to Sea After Millions in Damage

(By The Associated Press)

Hurricane Flossy, downgraded to storm status with half of its punch gone, swirled into the Atlantic today off the South Carolina coast. The season's sixth tropical storm left 13 dead and at least that many missing, plus property damage in the Gulf estimated at several million dollars.

The Miami weather bureau said the storm would regain some force after reaching the ocean north of Charleston, S. C., but probably not enough to get back into the hurricane class.

Flossy formed suddenly in the Gulf Saturday, aimed its center for a time at populous New Orleans, then swerved eastward and slammed the northwest Florida coast with 100-mile-an-hour winds late Monday. The storm's northeasterly journey brought drenching rain to Georgia before skipping out over the Atlantic. More than five inches of rain were dumped on parched farm lands.

Belated reports of deaths and property damage sent both totals soaring. Latest victims listed were Mrs. Vera Daniels, 45, of Columbia, Miss., who drowned when her car plunged into a water-filled ditch; George Stewart, 21, and Robert Washington, 24, who toppled overboard and drowned when a wind gust hit their tug near Jacksonville, Fla.; and Capt. Robert D. Willford of Sepulveda, Calif., who died in the wreckage of his plane after it collided with a second jet which crashed into a home near Tallahassee, Fla., and killed a mother and her three children.

The hurricane hit Grand Isle, popular Louisiana vacation resort, destroying the Grand Isle hotel and many houses and boats on the six-mile-long island. Damage was estimated at several millions of dollars.

Flossy churned high tides in its wake near Panama City, Fla., and caused damage estimated at $300,000. Damage to oil drilling equipment in the Gulf had pre-

Harriman Names Lawyer to Probe Monaghan Feud

Albany, Sept. 26 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today appointed James M. Landis, Rye attorney, to investigate the feud between the state harness racing commissioner and the United State Trotting Assn.

The governor said he had asked Landis, former chairman of the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission and former dean of Harvard Law School, to "look into all aspects of the situation and to report to me."

Meanwhile, a Republican assemblyman, Wilson C. Van Duzer of Orange county, called on the governor to take "whatever action you deem necessary to bring about Harness Racing Commissioner George P. Monaghan's removal from office."

Harriman said Landis "knows my determination to keep racing in New York State clean."

Landis will serve without salary. The association summarized its complaints against Monaghan in a brief submitted to the governor on Sept. 17. The governor's office said late last month that Monaghan had filed "some material" with Harriman at the governor's request.

Serving 6-Year Term
Monaghan, former New York city police commissioner, was appointed in 1954 to a six-year term as commissioner following a Moreland Act investigation of harness racing. The investigation, stemming from the slaying of a labor leader at Yonkers Raceway, revealed graft and corruption in the sulky sport.

The commissioner may not be removed summarily by the governor from his job, which pays $18,500 a year plus $3,000 a year in lieu of traveling expenses. The Senate, which is Republican controlled, would have to approve any move to remove the commissioner.

Among those who have spoken out against Monaghan's administration of harness racing in New York state is E. Roland Harriman, a Republican and younger brother of the Democratic governor. The younger Harriman, president of the Hambletonian Society, has said that the Hambletonian racing classic will be moved from Goshen to Duquoin, Ill., for the next two years because of "the unsatisfactory conditions under which harness racing is being administered in New York state at the present time."

Harriman said Landis "knows my determination to keep racing in New York State clean."

Landis will serve without salary. The association summarized its complaints against Monaghan in a brief submitted to the governor on Sept. 17. The gov-

Brown of Hinsdale, Ill., when it arrived in Cleveland for a scheduled stopover last Sunday. The coast guard said Brown has not received the call.

East Kingston Fire Damage Is Set at $1,500

A fire of undetermined origin caused approximately $1,500 damage to an unoccupied two-family frame house in East Kingston this morning, according to Thomas Clausi, assistant chief of East Kingston Fire Company. The house was located on Railroad avenue.

Mr. Clausi said that the alarm was sounded at 7:30 a. m. and fire extinguished about 9:30 o'clock. He reported that approximately 1,000 gallons of water were poured on the house owned by Brigham Brick Corp. of East Kingston.

According to Chief Clausi, "quick and determined action saved the structure from complete destruction." Both the tank truck and the pumper answered the call to the fire.

ROOTS, DEEP AND LASTING

In Iowa recently, both President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson told their listeners they felt at home there.

The cynical might swiftly conclude that these were just standard political efforts to curry favor with Iowans. But in fact there is no reason to question that both men meant exactly what they said.

Mr. Eisenhower grew up in Kansas, not far to the west. And Stevenson, of course, still lives in nearby Illinois. They have a good reason to feel at home anywhere in the Midwest.

The sense of being at ease—at home—in a setting is one we all know. Deep attachment to place is at the root of patriotic feeling. Even the most placid people will fight to save the land they love.

In mobile America millions do not have the fullest chance to develop lasting attachment to particular places. They move about too often. But any who manage to live a fairly long time in one spot find it exerting a strong pull upon them.

Such love of place has no logic to it. It is founded on a natural fondness for the familiar. The trees in another place may actually be more beautiful, but they are not the trees you know.

In traveling about you may see many scenes of surpassing beauty. You may appreciate warmly the quality of living in those places. You may even enjoy intensely living there yourself. But somehow the old feeling for the spot you knew longest and best will never rub off.

The flattest land may stir you more than great mountains pushed against the sky. Muddy rivers may appeal to the eye where clear lakes do not.

There are exceptions. Sometimes you hear people say: "Don't go back home. You'll be disappointed at the changes. It's better just to remember it as it was."

Sometimes perhaps this is the best way, for changes wrought by time do now and again make some places almost unrecognizable. But this is true only occasionally.

More frequently the familiar elements remain prominent and can be seen and appreciated as of old. Those who return periodically to the places they know best get more chance, of course, to digest the changes that occur. They find them less troubling than do people who do not visit the old setting for a decade or more.

This thing of feeling at home is part of the sense of belonging we all need to feel. We feel this sort of attachment to people, too. When circumstances deny us the opportunity to sink roots in a place, we have to be satisfied with our purely personal attachments.

But all the signs seem to suggest that it's best for us—we feel most secure and content—if we can sense that we belong not only to other humans but to the land we live on.

Two things we never expect to see—a pessimistic politician and an optimistic football coach.

JIMMYS TEA PARTY

This chubby little fellow with the wondering big blue eyes—call him Jimmy—had a tea party in the basement of his home the other day. He had often before had tea parties there with his older sister, Mary. But Mary is in kindergarten this year, so Jimmy had a party all by himself.

When Jimmy and Mary had their tea parties, the tea was milk or sugar water that Mother fixed for them. Jimmy didn't bother Mother. He found something—a small can on a basement shelf—that would do for tea. He poured some of it into a cup and drank it.

The label on the can said "weed poison." When Jimmy came staggering up the basement steps they took him to the hospital, but it was too late. Jimmy died.

This, except for the names, is a true story. Its heart-wrenching lesson should be learned by every parent. Little hands reach up to find things on shelves. Poisons, medicines, cleaning fluids—all such things should be secured out of reach. Remember Jimmy's tea party.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
CONTROVERSY

The Washington correspondent of "The Manchester Guardian," discussing the prospects of Christian Herter before the San Francisco Convention, makes the point:

"... He is a man whom it is hard to dislike. No one would call him a controversial politician. That fact alone would set him apart from Mr. Nixon."

It is difficult to understand why it is praiseworthy of a public man not to be a controversial politician, or why it makes him a worthy person because it is hard to dislike him. It is hard to dislike George Jessel but no one would think of him as a Presidential or a Vice Presidential possibility on those grounds. Or, for that matter, who can dislike Toots Shor?

Both Eisenhower and Stevenson, both Nixon and Kefauver are controversial personalities. That is why there is a contest. Neither Hitler nor Stalin was ever a controversial character because whoever got on the wrong side of that argument was soon dead. Smart men yelled hurra at everything Hitler or Stalin did and they remained alive to dance on the dictators' graves.

Controversy is the soul of freedom. Contentiousness, debate, discussion are the stuff of which liberty is made. The Democratic Convention was more exciting than the Republican only because that cantankerous individual, Harry Truman brewed a fuss, and the Republican Convention was saved from the death of unanimity by the nomination of Joe Smith.

For some reason that no American can understand, some of the British newspapers were plugging for Governor Christian Herter for Vice President, perhaps because he was born in Paris which is, to them, apparently preferable to Boston. Herter was plugging for Nixon and actually placed him in nomination which must have been very puzzling to these British editors who probably believe that they are taken very seriously in the United States, particularly "The Manchester Guardian" which speaks for a suicidal liberalism, the kind that helped to dissolve the British Empire.

The only value in calling attention to this peculiarity of the British press is that so often it misleads the people of our principal ally. For instance, this particular article was published early in August, at a time when there was not the slightest doubt that Richard Nixon would be nominated for Vice President.

Although it is pleasing to know that all the world is so interested in the outcome of the American election and that newspapers abroad have their emotions as to which of our great men should be chosen, it is nevertheless impossible to avoid asking them precisely what business it is of theirs. It is very much like Earl Jowett's obiter dicta on the Alger Hiss Case or Earl Russell's opinions on the Rosenberg Case. Maybe these learned men believed that they having spoken, the Supreme Court would immediately resign and apologize to them for having decided as they did.

However, in "The Manchester Guardian" piece on Christian Herter, all is explained in these simple words:

"Fluent in French, he adds respect for France to his admiration for Britain as the guiding principles of America's partnership with Europe."

This is would seem to me, is no praise at all. The people of this country expect of its officials most of all to be an American and to protect the interests of his own country against all comers. It is not startling any longer that an American can speak French or Russian or Chinese, but it is astonishing that anyone would give linguistic fluency as an advantage for a Vice President whose principal business is presiding over the Senate where the only language spoken is English.

Unbelievable variations from the nasal sharpness of the Yankee to the drawl of the Southerner. If linguistic facility is what is required then we should elect as Vice President Dr. J. B. Matthews who knows and has used something in the neighborhood of 30 languages and dialects and translated "Onward Christian Soldiers" into Javanese. I have heard him boom in Hebrew and do a falsetto in Arabic. Surely, there must be a reward for such diligence somewhere.

This is not written in criticism of Governor Christian Herter who received his early training at the hands of Herbert Hoover in his various relief administrations, but to point to the absurdity of the position taken by "The Manchester Guardian" which seemed to desire to choose a Vice Presidential candidate for the Republican Party.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

CHANGES IN COLOR OF THE FACE

Yesterday we were discussing how changes in expression of the face may alert the observant physician of possible disease conditions present in the body. Of course, it goes without saying that information gleaned from the face does not mean that a complete general examination need not be made. It can act, however, as a guide in investigation. Today we will consider how changes from normal face color may indicate the condition present.

The most common variation from the normal, flesh-pink color of the face is paleness of the skin and conjunctive (lining of the eyelids) due to anemia, which may vary from the lemon-yellow of pernicious anemia to the ivory-white of chronic nephritis (inflammation of the kidneys). Cyanosis (blueness of the skin) which is associated with chronic advanced disease of the lungs or heart is most apparent in the lips, ears, and mouth. Flushing of the face, particularly in the cheekbone regions, is observed in many acute febrile states such as pneumonia and is conspicuously present in long-continued fevers notably in active pulmonary tuberculosis.

Jaundice is usually first detectable in the face, particularly the conjunctive and occasionally in the roof of the mouth. Variation in hue may be considerable from minor grades of lemon-yellow to deep yellow and even green. In cirrhosis (hardening) of the liver, the eyes are watery and yellowed as well as sunken and tiny veins and arteries can be seen in them.

The characteristic appearance of the skin in lupus erythematosus (a chronic skin disease) is a flushed rash over the cheekbones and bridge of the nose, called a butterfly distribution, usually hardened and raised with sharp margins. This same butterfly rash also is seen in sarcoidosis. In scleroderma—a disease of the skin which usually begins in middle life and is often incurable—there is a parchment-like pale smooth appearance of the skin which may be so tightly drawn over the underlying tissues that the face becomes completely expressionless.

As well as changes in color of the face, there may be changes in its shape.

Certain unusual striking changes of shape of the face may indicate the diagnosis almost by inspection alone. Such are the depressed bridge of the nose, notched front teeth, hazy inflammation of the cornea of the eyes so often seen in congenital (present at birth) syphilis; also the lion-like facial appearance with superabundance of skin and disappearance of hair, eyebrows and eyelashes in leprosy.

As we have said, keen observation of facial expression, coloring and contour can often give valuable clues, but as in other spheres of physical diagnosis, possibilities for error exist and hasty judgment should be avoided.

"Hey! How About Another Summit Meeting?"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington — NEA — Back-alley brawling between ex-President Harry S. Truman and GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall is a kind of political distraction to the Main Street bout between President Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

It's necessary to go back to the record to know all that's involved in the Truman-Hall exchanges of dirty digs.

In response to a question on how to tell his press conference, Eisenhower still believe that America believes I am honest, that I am not a rascal, that I am not a racketeer or anything like that.

Since nobody—not even Mr. Truman—has called President Eisenhower personally any of those things, the denial may have been a little more sweeping than necessary.

THE WORST that Truman has said of the Eisenhower administration thus far was at the Democratic convention in Chicago. Truman's "Point Five" in his six-point indictment of the GOP at the convention's final session was this:

"We're going to fight to save the finances of all the people from control of the money changers and mortgage sharks."

Truman went on to explain how the big bankers behind the Eisenhower administration had raised national debt interest rates, affecting even homeowners and consumers.

Then came this punch line: "And I want to say to you that they are in danger right now from this bunch of racketeers."

Two weeks later at Milwaukee in a press conference before his Labor Day speech, even Truman sucked this back a little. There he said they were "legal racketeers."

chase the former Judge Hasbrouck house at Clinton avenue and Maiden Lane.

An estimated $45,000 was reached in a fund drive for a $75,000 addition to the Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville.

John R. Lencke, 81, who had operated the Apollo Magneto Co., died at his home on Presidents Place.

Sept. 26, 1946 — The YWCA announced it planned to pur-steers." And he limited the application to the so-called "give-away" of natural resources.

When Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson was asked in Washington if he approved this, he replied:

"I would say that I wouldn't have used that precise word myself, but no one could feel more strongly than I do about the give-aways of our natural resources, by this administration to which—as I understand it—President Truman was referring; not to the personal honesty or integrity of President Eisenhower."

THIS SITUATION has an almost exact parallel in the past—with the two party roles reversed. It came with Democratic attempts to hang on Republican vice presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon the charge that he accused Truman, ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Stevenson of being "traitors" and that the Democratic party was "the party of treason."

Len Hall has been doing his damndest to beat down this charge.

He has offered $1,000 to any charity for proof that Nixon ever said those things.

Without offering proof, Truman has blandly told Hall to send the $1,000 to Korean Red Cross. And Democrats keep repeating the charge.

What Nixon actually said was: "Truman, Acheson and Stevenson are traitors to the high principles in which many Democrats believe. . . . Real Democrats are outraged by the Truman-Acheson-Stevenson gang's toleration and defense of communism in high places."

HALL tried, to hang this albatross around Stevenson's neck by associating him with Truman's statement that he, Truman, didn't think Hiss was a Communist spy.

Stevenson's reiteration of his 1952 statement that he thought Hiss properly convicted of perjury in denying he had passed documents to Communists may or may not end this episode.

Inferences of dishonesty, racial and traitorous conduct may be read into the Truman and Nixon statement quoted above. The point is that such charges were not made directly in either case.

Politics is bad enough without making it worse by distortion and exaggeration. But politics has always been played by such cute trickery, and it probably always will be.

Home Weather Forecast

Scranton, Pa. (P)—Charles A. Gianetta, not only talks about the weather. He does something about it. The 20-year-old Dunmore, Pa., resident likes his weather forecasts reasonably accurate and faster that he could otherwise obtain them. So he built his own meteorological station in his home. He now values his weather predicting equipment at more than $1,000 and scores of neighbors and friends depend on him almost exclusively.

His fondest memory is his prediction of a raging snowstorm that hit the Dunmore-Scranton area last May 7. "When I made that one," he said, "most people just wouldn't believe it." A short time later, everyone was more than willing to take his word for it.

Foresight

Dayton, Ohio (P)—Dayton police, who refused a Philadelphia stuntwoman permission to drive across Dayton blindfolded, must have been armed with foresight. Only a week later the woman, Rhoda Doloff, landed in a Mount Gilead, Ohio, hospital with a fractured pelvis and broken ribs, suffered when her car left the road and hit a culvert. She was driving with her eyes wide open when the accident occurred.

Today in World Affairs

Abrogation Is Called Issue In All Foreign Investments

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 26—These are perilous times for the people who give their money and energy trying to make the world economy function—perilous because the confidence of investors is being shaken by the widespread but unthinking applause for "nationalism." So accustomed have many people become to the idea that government — and particularly the United States government — must furnish without restriction or limit the capital for "underdeveloped" countries that there has been a tendency to overlook the conditions that could cause both the government and the private investors to shun the so-called "nationalistic" countries.

Public Is Hostile

This very week there's a meeting here of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund, and naturally there is much discussion about financing economic development — where needed throughout the world. It is no secret that Harold Macmillan, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, who is in Washington for the meetings, thinks that Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal has seriously shaken the confidence necessary for private investment in underdeveloped nations. But what is more and more significant is that public opinion in countries like Britain and the United States is growing more hostile to the extension of government loans to governments which have no respect for law or equity.

Perhaps the best statement of principles — what is right and what is wrong on this subject — has just come from M. J. Rathbone, president of the Standard Oil Company (N. J.), in a copyrighted interview in "U. S. News & World Report." He declares:

On the question of nationalization and the Suez problem, there is one thing I'd like to say. I think that the great issue there is not whether the government has the right to nationalize property or not, but whether it has the right to abrogate contracts. I don't think any one questions the right of a government to nationalize something in its country which is not covered by a formal contract.

"For instance, if you should build a power plant in Cairo, just as a business venture without any contract with the Egyptian government, and the Egyptian government wanted to nationalize it, I don't think you would say a word about it. All you would ask is that they would give you satisfactory compensation."

"But where you have a concession contract with a government, it is an entirely different situation. In effect, a concession contract means that the sovereign government has given a private individual the right to do something."

"Immoral and Unethical"

"Now, as you know, the Secretary of State Dulles in his television interview on 'Meet the Press' has emphasized that the treaty of 1888 gave the Suez Canal users certain rights. That treaty has twelve more years to run. If treaties are to be superseded by 'nationalization' of private properties without regard to concessions given by treaty, Mr. Dulles says, 'alternatively' the canal will have to be planned. He points out that 'it takes a little time, but you can get tankers—these big tankers—and it's cheaper for them to go around the Cape of Good Hope than it is to use the canal.' He added:

"Egypt is losing in other ways far more than the equivalent of canal revenues... ordinary business is drying up..."

So economic force becomes more important in many ways than military force and it is wholly voluntary. Investors—either private or governmental—cannot be compelled to put their money in countries which violate treaties and take an arbitrary or capricious attitude toward private contracts. ## AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

It is a matter of absolutely no significance that the American national game inspired and the American public adopted as a literary classic, a mess of clumsy doggerel called "Casey at the Bat."

De Wolf Hopper, a popular actor with a melodious voice which doused the poetical defects with rhetorical whooster, adopted this dreadful thing as irrelevant lagniappe and bawled it thousands of times for years and years. By this process, Hopper came to be identified with "Casey at the Bat" in the minds of millions who had never heard of Ernest L. Thayer, of Boston, who wrote it.

The name of the paper which ran it first is not disclosed in the records which I have been able to consult and I have no recollection among my rubbish of anything else that Thayer ever was guilty of. There are a few little bits of phrase in an otherwise stuffy and wooden try at humor which suggest that he might have been a very fair sort of city-side reporter.

The late Frank G. Menke, a blood-hound biographer, says Thayer came from Worcester, studied at Harvard and wrote "Casey" in San Francisco in 1888. Ralph L. Woods, in his priceless "Treasury of the Familiar," says further only that Thayer was born in 1863 and died in 1940.

The saga deals with the failure of one Casey in the ninth inning of a game between Mudville and an unidentified opponent when he went to bat with runners on third and second and two men gone.

Casey hit for Mudville, the home club. For no stated reason the attendance, given as 5,000, expected him to hit a home run. The score was 4 to 2 against him. The first two strikes were called and there was no "take," so he swung for the third one.

The name of the pitcher is not given and we are invited to conjure an old-style baseball match between wood-cut primitives wearing straw hats.

The text says the pitcher ground the ball into his hip, as pitchers did when they were forbidden to raise the pitching hand above the hip-line, and further that Casey "lightly doffed his hat" in response to the premature cheers.

The official encyclopedia of baseball tells us that Walt Whitman was one of the earliest baseball writers but the only expression salvaged from that darling of the world outside of the United States belongs to the government. So that, if you want to come into any foreign country and develop subsoil wealth there, no matter whether it is oil, coal, iron or what, you make a contract with the government. Now, the government itself owns it and it has a perfect right to find it if it can. But when it elects not to do so and gives a concession to a private investor to do that, it is done for a specific period of time and with specific benefits to the government. And under those conditions we think that it is immoral and completely unethical for a government to grant a concession under those circumstances, and then unilaterally to abrogate the concession.

"I think that the thing we need in the world today, and which I have just talked about here by our government—recognition of the fact that they don't have to give these concessions but, once they do, then they ought to abide by them."

"If we don't have that kind of a set of rules and that kind of atmosphere in the world, we are not going to have foreign investments in, nor have the development of, the natural resources of many countries. Important as the Suez Canal is, it is very clear to me that much more important is the acceptance of this principle—that once a sovereign government makes a contract which it doesn't have to make, that contract ought to be respected. And if it isn't, they just simply aren't going to get the capital investment and know-how and markets and all of the other things that go with developing a country."

"Alternatives" Planned
Secretary of State Dulles in his television interview on "Meet the Press" has emphasized that the treaty of 1888 gave the Suez Canal users certain rights. That treaty has twelve more years to run. If treaties are to be superseded by "nationalization" of private properties without regard to concessions given by treaty, Mr. Dulles says, "alternatively" the canal will have to be planned. He points out that "it takes a little time, but you can get tankers—these big tankers—and it's cheaper for them to go around the Cape of Good Hope than it is to use the canal." He added:

"Egypt is losing in other ways far more than the equivalent of canal revenues... ordinary business is drying up..."
So economic force becomes more important in many ways than military force and it is wholly voluntary. Investors—either private or governmental—cannot be compelled to put their money in countries which violate treaties and take an arbitrary or capricious attitude toward private contracts. CONVENTION NOTES

The "Newdealocrats" met in a livestock exposition hall. They had a bum steer.

The "Republocrats" met in a Cow Palace, and some good-looking calves were seen.

Both served cream to the voters and some milk to the party of the second part. This took a lot of bull, but they had plenty of corn.

I'm convinced that politicians, mine run, are dumber than blondes. What a holy show they make of themselves on radio and TV!

Bombast, baloney, preachers' slides, clenched fists, gritted teeth! But why go on?

It made no difference whether the orator was a "one-gallus" nobleman from up the creek, who left school when six to help his dear, sainted mother; or he was a fashion plate who was freshman ping pong champion of the Ivy League—they all rave, repeat and repel.

Public speaking, to them, is the art of diluting a one-minute thought with a two-minute vocabulary.

They all suffer from constipation of the brains and a diarrhea of words.

In a fortnight of language, can you name more than two who spoke simply, sincerely and shortly?

We were told that the radio and TV would put a stop to these fake orators. But they have no stops.

Yet these fellows, with bellows, urge us to vote them into office to spend our money.

And, neighbor, we do so.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The Mail Order Catalogue is as popular as ever. The word "Discount House" is a new word, but to me they are all interesting illustrated catalogues, even regardless of the year. In fact, I like them the older the better. I have before me one which reads on the back cover: "It pays to do your shopping by mail with Carson Pirie Scott and Co., Chicago, U.S.A., 'The Quickest Mail Order House in the World.'" They had branch houses in New York, Paris, Manchester, England and Chemnitz, Germany. This is book No. 13—Spring and Summer issue, of "The Shoppers' Economist" only it was 60 years ago, and 1896 issue. The book of some 132 pages and index is beautifully illustrated and some pages in color. The boys suit on the inside front cover ranging from sizes 3 to 15 years shows how styles have changed. Those were the days of sailor and Eton jackets, with lace collars and short trousers, with high button shoes and black ribbed hose and sailor hats. You would have to see it to believe it, that young boys wore straw "katie" hats, derbies, and toppers and that with lace collars and bows. Boys had ruffled shirts which cost from 75 cents to a $1. The ruffles were deep and laced, and on collars and sleeves and down the front of the shirt waist. There were 21 various kinds of hats shown for boys.

The page that really stops one is the "cycling suits" for ladies. These have to be seen to be appreciated. I am astounded at the bulkiness and weight of the material used. Those were the days of mutton sleeves, high buttoned and laced shoes and long leggings.

A properly dressed Kingstonian lady riding a bicycle on Albany avenue, for instance back in 1896 would wear, a bicycle suit all of wool navy serge, a cap, leggings, divided skirt and a blazer jacket with a big sailor collar, large three piece draped sleeves, wide self-facing skirt, percaline lined. This outfit would cost her around $15 to $20.

I wonder how many folks remember Kingston Point Beach in the late 1890's, when ladies wore bathing suits of blue flannel, trimmed with white braid, and a large sailor collar. They could be had in long or short sleeves. Of course they also wore long black stockings and bathing shoes. No doubt, it was not simple to get out of one of those complicated high necked affairs after a swim, water-wings were all the style too then, and both men and women used them. They were made of some sort of canvas which when wet held the air and we blew them up ourselves. In the early 1920's the flannel bathing suits were going out, and we wore real swim suits, but still here and there on the beach one saw the blue flannel dresses with the rows of white braid. Some were made of black brilliantine material and elbow sleeves and of course large sailor collar.

For inclement weather one wore Mackintoshes in the late 1890's. Not just jackets but long coats, men, women and children.

The men had black or navy tri-cot Mackintoshes, seams sewed, strapped and cemented, plaid lining, full size capes and they only cost $6.50. The ladies coats were also blue or black, double texture, with red and blue changeable silk lining and detachable double cape, full sweep, with inlaid velvet collar and fastening straps. All coats were long and no doubt very heavy. Well, they ate good in those days, no diets.

Police Still Hunting Assailant of Chinese

There has been no break in the case of a Poughkeepsie restaurant man who was struck on the back of the head early Sunday morning as he sat at a table counting the day's proceeds.

Poughkeepsie police were still investigating the attack on Mark Sing, 72, proprietor of the New Chinese Restaurant, 235 Main street.

Sing told police he had about $90 on the table when he fell asleep as he was counting it. He was awakened by a blow on the head. The assailant apparently entered the window of Sing's second-floor bedroom and struck him on the head, inflicting a laceration which required two stitches.

Farm Votes . . .
bank to pour money into the farm bank before election?"

"Or does the President deny that this is playing politics, and with huge sums of the taxpayers' money?"

The prepared speech did not elaborate on the two questions, but added that if the soil bank is "debased for partisan political purposes during this election year," Republicans must be blamed.

Eisenhower made clear in his own address that the administration is relying mainly on the soil bank to brighten the farm picture. This provides for payments to farmers who retire land that otherwise would be used in production of basic crops already in surplus.

It was, Eisenhower said, "the old price-depressing Democratic farm programs" which caused 85 per cent of the decline in farm prices since the war.

Then in a thrust at Stevenson, Eisenhower said: "And yet, some politicians say that—to counteract the poisons spread by the old farm program—farmers ought to swallow the same programs all over again."

He said farm exports are up and surpluses down and "the toughest problems—lost markets, overproduction, surpluses—are giving way."

Charges Appeasement
In Miami last night, Stevenson accused the administration of appeasing the Peron regime in Argentina, and linked "a member of the President's personal family" with the alleged appeasement.

Stevenson did not name the family member, but a campaign aide said he referred to Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the President's youngest brother.

Heavy Winds Expected

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Northeast winds of 30 to 35 miles an hour are expected to hit the city and the nearby area tonight and continue strong tomorrow, the Weather Bureau said today. The bureau said that "interaction between the remains of storm Flossie and an intensifying high pressure system over the northeast" would bring the high winds. The hurricane, which spent itself last night, will pass about 250 miles to the south of the city about noon tomorrow, the Weather Bureau said, but because of its greatly diminished force there probably will be little serious effect.

Parking Close

parking space used all day by the merchant himself, or an employee, at a meter which he considers his meter, a pretty expensive convenience. Retailers should encourage and support policemen in the enforcement of parking regulations and make the spaces available for customers. Incidentally, some of you might encourage deliveries when shoppers are not apt to be around. Then again, perhaps none of your customers have a double parking problem."

Mr. Kurdt, speaking as a member of a panel on the topic, "Local Retail Organizations at the Crossroads," cautioned that if merchants had a "difference of opinion" about a local problem they should try to "fight it out privately and not have merchants on opposite sides of the street, or on adjacent streets, get into a public squabble over any plan or proposal. When this happens personalities become involved."

Must Let Public Know
He advised that they let the public know that retailers as a group are interested in the best possible traffic movement "and in more business. Try to agree among yourselves before you face the public or make public statements. From a recent experience back home I found this situation to be a very serious matter."

Mr. Kurdt pointed out that Kingston had four business districts, each with its own businessmen's organization but that "fortunately they all work together on many community problems. This tends to build good will for retailing. Some projects, such as street decorations at Christmas time, are carried out on a regional or district basis. Sometimes retailers located in the less important business districts, find fault with promotions because the central area gets most of the business. Just finding fault, without helping plan the promotions, and participating in them, causes irritation and again loses good will."

Must Show Interest
Mr. Kurdt stressed the importance of civic leadership, pointing out that retailers as a group could get more recognition and support for the solution of problems which they believe affect them more directly by showing such leadership. One way to do this is through a well organized, well supported Chamber of Commerce or similar organization, which includes all segments of community interest, such as retailing, industrial, professions, all services, transportation, wholesaling, education, etc.

He also called attention to the importance of a thriving community where people want to live, work and shop. He advised retailers to participate unselfishly in the solution of civic problems and the community in general would help them solve their own problems as retail merchants.

Mr. Kurdt also pointed out that in many cases established retailers had helped force the development of shopping centers in the outlying areas by refusing to help institute modern traffic regulations, one-way streets and provide adequate parking. Attending the convention from Kingston were Henry Singer, a director of the Council, and Mrs. Singer, Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Flanagan, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Minasian, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kalish and Clyde Wonderly, Jr.

Dulles Asks . . .
council will lean when it comes to grips with the basic issues, probably a week from now.

British and French diplomats were busy putting into shape the proposal they plan to lay before the council after the preliminaries are cleared away. This will be submitted formally by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, who are expected here early next week.

No Moscow Indications
U. S. Secretary of State Dulles also is expected to join in the later debate but there was no indication from Moscow whether Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov would come to New York.

But with the likelihood of a Soviet veto facing them, the British and French already were considering their next step. Prime Minister Eden and Lloyd were due in Paris today for discussion with French Premier Guy Mollet and Pineau on future policies.

Spokesmen said they would reaffirm their "solidarity" in insisting that the canal be put under some kind of international authority.

Exactly two months have passed since Nasser touched off a new wave of international tension by taking over complete control and operation of the 103-mile canal between the Mediterranean and Red seas. Before that the waterway had been operated by a private company owned mostly by the British government and French investors.

Flossy Moves

viously been estimated at two million dollars.

Still missing were about a dozen fishermen and an undetermined number aboard the tug Rosalie E. somewhere in the Gulf.

The hurricane lost some of its power when it collided with a mass of dry, cold air on the northern side, chief hurricane forecaster Gordon Dunn of the Miami weather bureau said last night.

This is deadly to tropical storms, which are kept alive by moist heat, he explained, and will tend to hold back Flossy's growth when it moves over water again.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—The stock market turned lower again today after a midmorning rally faltered. It was the third successive decline this week.

Losses ranging from $1 to more than $4 a share cropped up with some frequency. Selling was most pronounced in the aluminum, steel, chemical, paper, copper, steel and oil divisions.

Some brokers attributed the market's action to pre-election uncertainties. "Stevenson has been putting on an active campaign," said one trader. "Some of the boys on Wall street would like to see Ike take off his coat and start punching."

Down $1 a share or more were Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Amstar, Anaconda, Royal Dutch and DuPont. Losses of $2 or more were taken by Aluminum Ltd. and Gulf Oil, while International Paper was down more than $4.

The arrest followed an investigation by Troopers George Whiting and Al Chico.

Outlook for 25 PC More

Buick Expects to Sell 675,000 Passenger Cars of '57 Model

Associated Press Automotive Editor

Flint, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP) — Buick Motor Division looks to 1957 as probably second only to the record year of 1955. It expects to sell 675,000 passenger cars, or 25 per cent more than indicated for the current year. It will swing into 1957 model output on Oct. 15 and put the new units on sale on Nov. 9.

These were among highlights of a prepared talk today by Edward T. Ragsdale, Buick general manager, at a press preview of the new cars, hand-tooled models of which are being shown to dealers.

Basis of Prediction
Ragsdale said he based his prediction of a 25 per cent upturn in Buick sales next year on three factors:

"The impact of President Eisenhower's highway program will begin to manifest itself in 1957; this plus an anticipated increase in defense spending, and higher farm income, should prove a stimulant to the new car market."

The Buick executive also pointed out that the nation has 67 million people working, 1½ million more than a year ago. "All of this adds up to more money available for purchasing automobiles," he said.

April Count 80,000
Ragsdale said Buick had 80,000 cars in dealer inventory in April.

"By reducing production," he said, "we were able to cut this inventory to where we will have about 6,000 of the 1956 models on hand when the new cars are introduced. We will wind up the year with an output of some 551,000 cars—less than a day's production short of our 1956 mark—which was our second best year."

"But here is the important thing to remember—our share of industry output this year will amount to 9.5 per cent—compared to 8.5 per cent in 1955. (Buick's peak in 1955 was 10.3 per cent.)"

Ragsdale said more than four thousand Buick workers, laid off earlier this year when automobile output was cut to reduce inventories, will be recalled to work within the next 30 days.

"We anticipate employment will increase to 27,500 persons by Nov. 1," he said.

23,400 Employed

Before the current shutdown for model changeover Buick's payroll (at the end of August) amounted to 23,400 persons, he added.

Ragsdale said dealer profits this year had been "pretty thin." But, he added, "Buick took some steps toward improving the dealer profit picture last March when it instituted a new quality dealer program. This resulted, in many changes in the Buick franchise beneficial to dealers."

"Our dealers will save about eight million dollars this year as a result of this program," he said. "More savings will accrue to them next year when the full impact of this program is felt, and these savings will contribute importantly to their profits."

Ragsdale did not break down the changes accounting for the savings. However, a substantial portion of it will come from the action of the car makers in taking over the costs of warranty service on new cars. This heretofore has been borne by the car retailer.

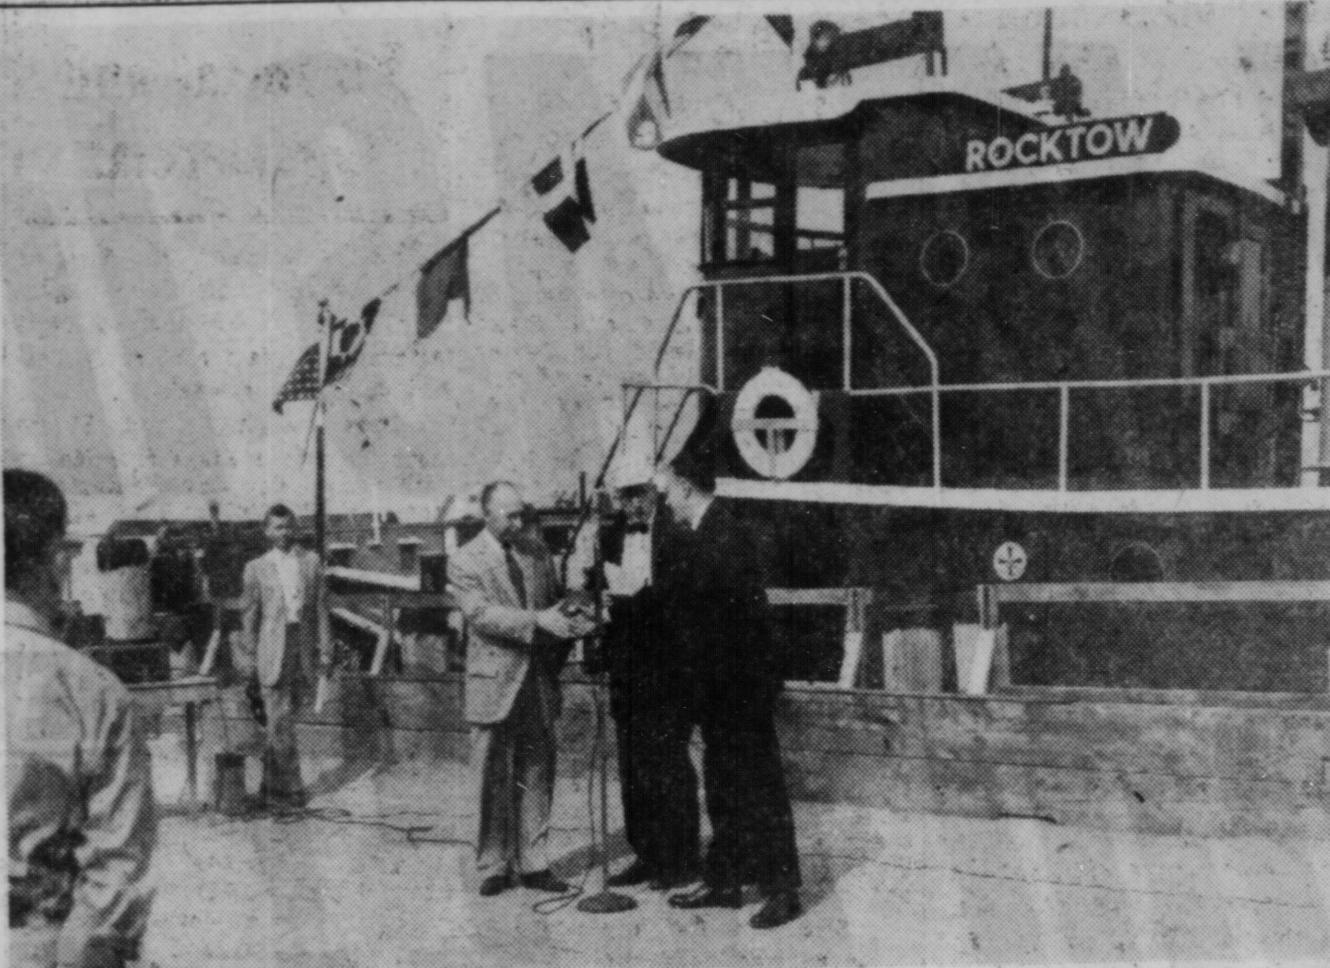

Ragsdale noted also that the quality program contemplates greatly increased efficiency in dealer operations. It will also result in a lessening of car "bootlegging" and unethical advertising, he added.

Man, 100, Dies

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Max Geffner, believed to be the oldest person ever to undergo major surgery, died today. He was 100. Geffner, a retired bedding manufacturer, underwent an operation at Beth Israel Hospital Monday for an intestinal obstruction. During the operation his heart failed. Doctors restored his heartbeat by opening his chest and using massage and electric current on the heart. Geffner had been in a coma since the operation.

No Peashooters

Egg Harbor City, N. J. (AP)—If you get caught using a peashooter in Egg Harbor City, you may wind up with a $100 fine or 30 days in jail. An ordinance adopted by the city council prohibits use of any device through which one can project projectiles. The measure was adopted with guns, rifles and the like in mind. But the pea-shooter also happens to fit the case.

Cornell Tug Is Named by Man From Trap Rock

The latest addition to Cornell Steamboat Company's fleet of tugboats was christened Rocktow in ceremonies held at the plant at New York Trap Rock Corporation, Tomkins Cove, last week.

The Kingston-towing firm's new acquisition, classed as a helper tug, was named by Thomas R. Regan of Jersey City, N. J. His entry, Rocktow was the winner in a contest for Trap Rock employees that was conducted in July and August.

In keeping with nautical tradition, a bottle of champagne was broken on the bow of the craft by Mr. Regan's daughter, Mary Ellen. This followed brief ceremonies in which Mr. Regan received the winner's $25 award from Floyd J. Buffington, vice president of operations of Trap Rock, and a cigarette lighter from C. W. Spangenberg, president of Cornell. Mr. Regan then presented an ensign for the tug to its captain, Michael McCullough.

A large number of employees of both companies and their guests attended the program, which ended with an inspection of the Rocktow and refreshments on board.

The tug, built by the Bushey Company, is 80 feet in length and is driven by a 600-horsepower Fairbanks-Morse diesel engine. It has a crew of eight. "Rocktow" is one of seven Cornell tugs that ply the Hudson river and metropolitan New York area. The Cornell company serves one of its principal customers, New York Trap Rock Corporation, by towing its barges loaded with crushed stone from plants along the Hudson to points throughout the region.

Besides Capt. McCullough, all of the tug's crew are Kingston residents. They are Ralph Carpio and George Kuyll, pilots; Albert Robert, engineer; Richard Young, assistant engineer; Donald Malone and Harold Bristol, oilers; John Golgoski, cook; Francis Watzka, Paul Hough-taling and John Lang, deckhands.

Species Not Sex

"Bullfrog" refers to a specific species of large frog and the sex of the animal is not involved in the name, so the female also is bullfrog.

A large number of employees of both companies and their guests attended the program, which

Fire in French Quarter

New Orleans, Sept. 26 (AP)—Fire raged through five small buildings on the edge of the famed French Quarter today. One man was killed. The victim was identified as Henry Harbert, about 33. Witnesses told police they tried to warn him, but were driven back by flames at the top of a staircase. An occupant of one building slept through the blaze. Firemen poking through the wreckage found Tommy Brennan, 52, asleep on the first floor. He said he hadn't heard any noise.

The world, Mom's pocketbook and Dad's desk are full of a number of things.

In order to buy one, we wish we had as much change as they say the new 1957 cars will have.

A lot of girls would be ruled out of summertime contests if one of the requirements were being able to cook.

Cody Friend

North Platte, Neb. (AP)—When producers of the annual Buffalo Bill Rodeo want historical background material they go to W. H. McDonald, 95, board chairman of a local bank. It was McDonald that Buffalo Bill Cody first confided plans for a wild west show he hoped would tour the world. Cody's show was staged here on July 4, 1882, and later toured Europe as Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show and Congress of Rough Riders.

Benefits Listed For Women Under Social Security

George J. Johnson, manager of the Kingston district office of Social Security Administration states that in the period starting with the first week in August when President Eisenhower signed the new social security law, we have attempted to explain the most important changes in the law. We have received an increasingly large number of requests for information from women between the age of 62 and 65. We have been able to classify these requests into four main groups:

IF YOU ARE A WORKING WOMEN—You may become entitled to social security payments at any time you choose after you reach age 62 instead of having to wait until you reach 65. However, if you decide to take the payments before you reach 65, the amount of the monthly benefit you will receive will be permanently reduced.

IF YOU ARE THE WIFE—Of a man who is getting social security retirement payments, you may become entitled to a wife's insurance benefits at any time you choose after reaching age 62, instead of having to wait until you are 65. If you decide to take the payments before you reach 65, the amount of the monthly benefit you receive as a wife will be permanently reduced.

IF YOUR HUSBAND DIES—You may become entitled to social security payments as a widow when you reach age 62 instead of having to wait until you reach 65. Your benefits are not reduced.

IF YOU ARE THE MOTHER OF AN INSURED WORKER—Who dies leaving no widow, widower, or child who could get monthly social security payments, and your son, or daughter was furnishing at least half of your support, you may become entitled to social security payments at age 62 instead of having to wait until you reach 65, your benefits are not reduced.

The Kingston Social Security Office servicing all of Ulster and Sullivan counties is located in the Central Post Office Building, Broadway, Kingston. For further information write or call Kingston 7307. Pamphlets are available upon request.

Rep. Keating Honored

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Rep. Kenneth B. Keating, Rochester, N. Y., Republican, today was presented with a certificate of merit by the Federal Bar Assn. of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut in a federal courthouse ceremony. The presentation was made by Theodore R. Kupferman, association president, at a mid-day recess of the antitrust subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee holding hearings on the television industry. Keating, ranking Republican member of the committee, was cited for "his outstanding achievements in the field of federal law and jurisprudence."

Armless Girl Happy

West Orange, N. J., Sept. 26 (AP)—Armless Carol Frances Woodward seemed as happy as any other three-year-old at her birthday party yesterday. The blue-eyed blonde youngster was all smiles as she cut her birthday cake at the Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation where she has been learning to operate her mechanical arms. She also insisted on opening all her gifts. Carol lost her arms about a year ago when she wandered onto a railroad track near her home in Ticonderoga, N. J., and her arms were crushed under the wheels of a train.

Communist Cell At Yale Bared

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 26 (AP)—A television repairman told the House Committee on Un-American Activities yesterday he once knew of a Communist cell of 15 to 20 students at Yale University.

Harold Mosher, 30, of Hamden said this was information he picked up while he was a member of the Communist party from 1947 to 1950 as an undercover man for the FBI.

All Students

Mosher said he was only testifying about the period of time between 1947 and 1950. The Yale cell, he said, was made up of students only.

Asked by committee counsel

Richard Arens if he knew of Communists at the University of Connecticut, Mosher replied:

"I believe there was."

He said he attended party meetings "with some university of Connecticut students."

Mosher and his father, W. C. Mosher of New Haven, testified during the committee's second day of hearings here into what it calls Communist "colonization" in fields of labor and education in Connecticut.

Young Mosher ran down a whole list of clubs in the New Haven area which he said were Communist cells. His father testified before him that there was a professional cell and an industrial cell, with about 30 or 40 members each, in this city.

Wearing eye protective equipment in U. S. industrial plants has saved the vision of 10,000 workers in the last 10 years.

Ahavath to Meet On Ball Monday

A special meeting of all chairmen and chairwomen of the annual Thanksgiving Eve ball and stage show sponsored by Congregation Ahavath Israel will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the Vestry Hall.

Benjamin Schechter, who will be chairman of the annual pre-holiday entertainment, has requested a full attendance.

"We're again planning on a four-star show for our patrons this year," Chairman Schechter said and added "it is important that all of our workers and co-workers attend the meeting." In past years the Ahavath Israel committees have brought to Kingston some of the finest television, radio and Broadway stars and according to Mr. Schechter this year's committee will continue with the same policy.

No Sidewalks

Miami, Fla. (AP)—The world may beat a path to suburban Coconut Grove, but it won't be a sidewalk. The City Commission bowed to militant Grove residents in waiving requirements for sidewalks along the scenic section's tree-lined lanes. The waiver applies to areas "Where owners are opposed to sidewalks, where there are many trees and shrubs, and where sidewalks would seriously detract from the natural beauty."

Won't Carry Appeal

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System has declined to carry a three-minute TV appeal by President Eisenhower in behalf of community fund-raising drives. The network announced yesterday that it would not telecast the Eisenhower talk because, the network said, the Federal Communications Commission had informed CBS that it would have to offer equal time to all other presidential candidates.

Back From Retreat

Belgrade, Sept. 26 (AP)—"Tourist" Nikita Khrushchev and President Tito returned today from Tito's island retreat at Brioni. Well informed sources said they had conferred on the world situation and relations between the Soviet and Yugoslav Communist parties. Khrushchev's visit to Yugoslavia has been labeled a vacation officially, but many speculated its purpose was to further improve relations between the Kremlin and Tito.

Lab Opens Today For Research on Cattle Disease

Greenport, N. Y., Sept. 26 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson today formally opens the government's new 10½ million dollar research laboratory for combatting the dreaded livestock foot-and-mouth disease on nearby Plum Island in Long Island Sound.

In a prepared speech, Benson told how 3½ million would be spent there annually in the search for ways to detect and wipe out foot-and-mouth and other diseases which strike at the nation's livestock industry.

Observing that between 1870 and 1929 there were nine outbreaks in this country of foot-and-mouth disease, and outbreaks in Mexico and Canada during the past decade, Benson said its spread from foreign lands now is more of a threat than in the past because of the increasing use of planes for transporting livestock.

"Planes outrun the incubation period for many virulent diseases," he added. "That is why we have strict quarantine and inspection requirements at our ports of entry."

He noted that establishment of the laboratory reflected a reversal of policy of Congress of many years' standing—so dreaded is the foot-and-mouth disease that proposals in the past for such a laboratory were rejected in the fear that it possibly might lead to accidental outbreak of the disease in this country.

All domestic outbreaks have been overcome by slaughter of infected animals. During the past 10 years this government has spent 135 million dollars, mostly in Mexico, to keep outbreaks from spreading across the border. Infected animals lose weight, if they survive, and those in dairy herds suffer sharp drops in milk production.

Steel Dwindles

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—The already-tight supply situation in steel will get worse before it gets better, Iron Age, the national metalworking weekly, said today. A special Iron Age survey of steel users indicates "growing apprehension" over availability, the magazine said. Storm signals already are beginning to appear, it said, even though the full impact of automotive buying is still to come. Production lines will be setting an increasingly fast pace in the weeks ahead, it added.

IT'S THE '57 "INNER FORD" IN ACTION

You're seeing why you'll ride sweet and low in the '57 FORD

On Wednesday, Oct. 3rd, you can see the new '57 Ford in all its glory. But (above) we're giving you a sneak preview of the "hidden beauty" that made the new Ford possible. You see, the new Ford was built from the inside out... just as a beautiful piece of architecture starts with its foundation. The new "Inner Ford" is the secret of Ford's magic... the inside story of why Ford is the longest, lowest, biggest, most spectacular Ford ever!

For the first time, you get a full-cradle frame that sweeps out as it dips down between the wheels. This helps give Ford a lower silhouette for 1957... as much as 4 inches lower. You get full head room and leg room—actually you get more inside room, easier entry than ever. Rear springs are mounted outside the frame so the rear seats are lower. The new driveshaft is tapered and hooks up with the differential lower down than ever before. This lets you ride sweet and low with full road clearance.

But this is just the beginning of the new Ford story! Wait till you try its exciting new sizzle! Wait till you see Ford's wonderful new bodies that ride sweet and low with Ford's remarkable new frames. They not only have quality in every built-to-last part and feature... but they say "quality" in every clean-lined, sculptured line. Your Ford Dealer will have something really new to show you for '57.

WHOSE NAME ON INVITATIONS?

"My parents are in Europe and I am an only child living in this country. I am about to have my wedding invitations made up and am puzzled as to how they should be worded. I live with a cousin and his wife. He sponsored me into this country. Some think the invitations should be sent out in their names and others think it is proper to have them go out in my parents' names even though they can't be present. Will you please advise me?"

The invitations to the wedding should go out in the names of those who are to be present — in other words, in your cousin's name.

Strangers at Table

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I often dine in a small French restaurant that we like very much. It is crowded and occasionally we are asked if we mind sharing our table with a stranger. When we do this, should my husband introduce himself and then me and do we have a conversation, or do we pay no attention to the stranger?

Answer: You would greet them but you wouldn't give your name nor try to carry on a conversation.

Unwanted Meat

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper way to dispose of a piece of meat which can't be chewed and swallowed?

Answer: The only thing to do is to dry it as well as you can with pressure of your tongue against your closed teeth and then remove it from your mouth with your thumb underneath and four fingers pressed close together above, (forming a screen over the piece of meat) and put it on your plate.

When should a gentleman offer his arm to the lady with him? This and many other

To Study Reactor

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—An instrument company said today the Atomic Energy Commission has asked it to study the feasibility of building a "gas-cooled" nuclear power plant to propel a huge oil tanker. The Ford Instrument Co., a division of Sperry Rand Corp., said the AEC contract calls for an engineering investigation of whether such a reactor could be built by 1961 for "a 707 foot-long super-tanker with a capacity of 38,000 tons dead weight." The nuclear power plant would employ a closed-cycle gas-cooled reactor.

Helen Dittmar Weds Louis Nosenzo In St. Peter's Church, Rosendale*MR. AND MRS. LOUIS NOSENZO

(Tom Reynolds photo)

A double ring ceremony was held for Miss Helen Ann Dittmar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Dittmar of Main street Rosendale, and Louis Vincent Nosenzo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nosenzo, Main street, Rosendale, Sunday, Sept. 23, 2 p. m. in St. Peter's Church, Rosendale.

The Rev. Donal Reidy, pastor of the church, officiated.

James J. Sweeney was at the organ and Mrs. James Sweeney sang, "Panis Angelicus" and "Ave Maria."

Palms and white gladioli decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length gown of Florentine silk styled with a molded bodice, long tapered sleeves and a portrait neckline outlined with hand clipped Alencon lace. Lace motifs adorned the bodice and the draped sash which encircled the hips and crossed low at the back. The billowing skirt swept back into an aisle wide circular court train. The French illusion fingertip veil cascaded from a princess crown of Alencon lace and fan pleated tulle.

The bride carried a bouquet of stephanotis, lily-of-the-valley and two white orchids.

Serving as the bride's honor attendant was Miss Victoria Nosenzo, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a blue gown of nylon tulle styled with a bodice accented with brilliants and a bouffant floor length skirt. A pleated cummerbund of taffeta encircled the waist and extended down the back in long streamers. A sleeved fichu covered her shoulders and headpiece, a circlet of fringed straw with a flirtation veil in blue.

Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Carol Whalen of 94 West O'Reilly street and Miss Patricia Perry, 29 East Chester street. They wore gowns styled identically to that of the maid of honor except in rose coral.

The maid of honor carried a bouquet of pink stephanotis while each bridesmaid carried a bouquet of blue stephanotis.

Miss Harriet Hefty, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a white nylon net over taffeta with a net yoke, pleated shoulder ruffle and a full floor length skirt worn over hoops. In her hair she wore a circlet of tiny flowers.

Carmen Palermo of Michigan was the best man. Ushers included James Dittmar, brother of the bride, and Anthony Cardone of Port Washington, L. I.

Child ringbearer was David Corso, cousin of the bridegroom. A reception was held at the Barn for approximately 125 guests.

Mrs. Nosenzo is a graduate of St. Ursula's Academy and she also attended New Paltz State Teachers College for more than two years.

Her husband is a graduate of Kingston High School and Cornell University where he completed a five year course in electrical engineering. He is a member of Alpha Phi Delta, and Eta Kappa Nu. He is employed by the University of Michigan.

Women's Chorus Seen Possible in Kingston

Rolland E. Heermance, conductor of the Treble Choralists, a group of 65 ladies from the Catskill-Hudson area, is contemplating the formation of a women's chorus in Kingston.

"Such a chorus would be composed of ladies from the entire Kingston area," he said.

Mr. Heermance will be present at the first meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 3 at 8 p. m. in the church hall of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop place.

Mr. Heermance said that anyone interested in the formation of such a group should make every effort to attend the first meeting in order to make plans for the fall season.

The group, if organized, will include in its plans a spring concert. Rehearsals will begin Oct. 10.

Alberti-Parmelee Nuptials of September 23 Are Announced; Couple to Live in Kingston

MRS. ROBERT E. PARMELEE

(Pennington Photo)

Miss Thelma Louise Alberti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Alberti of Windham, became the bride of Robert Edward Parmelee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Parmelee of 30 Progress street, Sunday, Sept. 23, 2 p. m. at St. Joseph's Church.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Alfred Glancy.

Mrs. Gertrude Rafferty was at the organ and Miss Marguerite Flaherty sang several selections.

For the wedding, the church was decorated with vases of white gladioli.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white nylon tulle and lace over satin styled with short sleeves and a Sabrina neckline outlined in lace. Her very full skirt was ballerina length and featured details of lace. Her fingertip length veil was gathered to a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. John Sacco, sister of the bride. She wore a pale blue gown, empire style, with a double Bishop's collar and a flared street length skirt. Her headpiece featured a circular veil and it was gathered to a crown of sequins.

Roger Parmelee of Flatbush avenue was best man for his nephew. Ushers included John Sacco of Lincoln park, brother-in-law of the bride and Lee Shuckrow of 200 Main street.

Following the church ceremony, a reception was held at the Alpine for approximately 100 guests.

Mrs. Parmelee is a graduate of Windham High School and is employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Her husband attended Kingston High School and is a member of the 854th Engineer Aviation Battalion, U. S. Army Reserve. He is associated in business with father at the Boulevard Gulf Service Station.

For her wedding trip through the New England states, the bride chose a fall navy suit with blue accessories, red velvet hat and a white orchid corsage.

When Mr. and Mrs. Parmelee return from their trip, they will make their future home at 357 Washington avenue.

Former Area Minister Officiates at Funeral

A former area minister was among those officiating at funeral services Tuesday for the Rev. Maurice E. Snyder, 41, fatally wounded Saturday by a rifle bullet at his home in Colonie.

He was the Rev. William K. Haysom, pastor of Bethany Church, New York city, formerly pastor of the Bloomingdale Reformed Church at Bloomington.

Mr. Snyder's 13-year-old son, Rancy, held in connection with the shooting, did not attend the services or funeral. He remained at the Children's Shelter where he is being held pending a psychiatric examination.

Funeral services were held at the historic Reformed Church of the Boght, founded in 1784, and were attended by a large crowd of parishioners and friends. Mr. Snyder was pastor of the Boght church. Burial was in Cobleskill.

The Cincinnati Red Stockings was the name of the first all-professional baseball team. In 1869, it played 64 games without a loss.

Babe's Family At Her Bedside

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 26 (AP)—The family of Babe Didrikson Zaharias was gathered about the famed woman athlete's bedside today.

John Sealy Hospital authorities said yesterday "the condition of Mrs. Zaharias has deteriorated since morning and her condition is now critical."

The Babe has been fighting cancer for some time. Summoned to her bedside late last night were brothers Ole Didrikson of Beaumont, Tex.; Louis Didrikson, Newton, Tex.; and Arthur Didrikson, Baytown, Tex.

One sister, Mrs. Lillie Grimes of Beaumont, had been in Galveston for some time. Another sister, Mrs. Philip Koch, Palisades, Calif., said by telephone she couldn't come because her husband was seriously ill.

New York Opens First Heliport

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Manhattan's first commercial heliport was opened today.

It is a helicopter landing field built by the Port of New York Authority at 30th street and the Hudson river.

Its establishment thus brings about an air link between the heart of Manhattan and the metropolitan area's three major airports, La Guardia, Idlewild and Newark, N. J.

Helicopters operating from it will carry only mail and cargo at first, but passenger service is expected to begin in about two months.

Speaking at the heliport's dedication, Mayor Robert F. Wagner predicted it would soon need to be enlarged to handle increasing business.

He also voiced belief that other such facilities soon will be needed in other parts of the metropolitan area.

As a matter of fact, he said, the city and the Port Authority already are cooperating to establish another commercial heliport at the lower tip of Manhattan.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Junior Riding Day Is Set Sept. 30

Woodstock, Sept. 26—A feature, innovated by the Woodstock Riding Club last year, which proved to be extremely popular with the younger members of the club, will resume Sunday, Sept. 30. The first of the fall Junior Riding Days will begin at 10 a. m. at the Ohayo Mountain riding ring, rain or shine. Sponsored by the Junior Activities Committee, of which Mr. C. J. van Rijn is chairman, the program of events is as follows: Opening Drill and Salute of the Flag, all riders participating; Jumping (English); Ribbon Race (English and Western); Pony Class (English and Western); Pleasure Horse (English and Western); Noon Recess; Grooming Class (English and Western); Equitation (English and Western); Musical Chairs (English and Western); Western Sprint; Egg Race (English and Western); Sportsmanship March Award of Trophy.

In order to promote good horsemanship, the judges are holding themselves available, after each class, to answer questions from contestants concerning the reasons why they were judged as they were.

Four silver awards will be awarded, three at each of the fall riding days, Sept. 30, Oct. 21 and Nov. 11, and an overall trophy at the conclusion of these events. On Sept. 30, a sterling silver plate, will be presented to the rider who, in the opinion of the judges, treats his mount best throughout the day in all classes, donated by Marvin Chase.

Participation in the Junior Riding Days is not restricted to members of the Woodstock Riding Club, but neither is it open to the public. Members of the club may invite friends and acquaintances for whose conduct they will vouch. Members may admit friends to a particular Junior Riding Day by filling out and signing Introduction Certificates, which were mailed to members. Persons thus invited must hand over the certificate to the ring clerk in the judges' stand in order to obtain their number at the opening of the riding day. The events are open to riders who have not reached their 19th birthday.

Stabling for horses will be available in the 32 covered box-stalls on the riding ring. Participants may bring their mounts the previous day and stable overnight. Although there are a total of 36 stalls, the club cannot guarantee any participant a stall, and stalls are therefore made available on the basis of first-come, first-served. Members of the club who live in Woodstock are urged to give preference to out-of-town participants. They are also reminded that their horse may need a blanket.

There will be a campfire at night. Edward Donahue of the Woodstock Riding Club will chaperone the party. Those who are not members of the club who wish to camp, must show their Introduction Certificate to Mr. Donahue, but retain it for submission to the ring clerk in the morning.

A refreshment stand will be provided on the grounds.

The Woodstock Riding Club welcomes applications for new members. Application forms may be obtained from the chairman of the Membership Committee, Mrs. Griffin Herrick, Woodstock. Blanks are also in hand with the secretary of the Junior Activities Committee, Mrs. Mary Orser.

Schoonmaker Lectures To Begin October 3

Woodstock, Sept. 26—The Nancy Schoonmaker course of six lectures will commence

Wednesday, Oct. 3, at 3 p. m., in the Anna Carolan studio off Library Lane.

The last course dealt with the political biographies of six men who contributed magnificently to the history of the United States. In the present series, however, due to the critical situation in the Middle and Near East, Mrs. Schoonmaker will revert to her specialty "International Relations."

Confirmation Classes Will Begin October 4

Woodstock, Sept. 25—The Rev. Herald C. Swezy, vicar of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, announces that beginning Thursday, Oct. 4, confirmation classes will be held for children, eleven years or older, of Episcopal parents at Oteora Central School, in the last activity period of that day. Classes will continue on Thursdays and will be held in the old building across from the school. Pupils may obtain from their teachers cards to be signed by the parents desiring this instruction for their children.

Church Notes

Woodstock, Sept. 26—On Sunday, Sept. 30, at the service of worship at 11 a. m. in the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd will base his sermon on the parable of the Prodigal Son. A nursery is available for younger children. Sunday school will be held at 9:30 a. m.

The Christian Endeavor Society meets at 7:30 p. m. Woodstock, Sept. 26—Man's God-given ability to cope successfully with fear, sickness, and all discord will be emphasized at the services in the Woodstock Christian Science Church on Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Unreality" is the Golden Text from II Timothy (1:7): "God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."

The account of Jahaziel's prophecy and the overthrow of the enemies of Jehoshaphat (II Chronicles 20) will be included in passages to be read from the King James Version of the Bible.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be among those read

(228-25-27): "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God."

A New Hampshire man in an industrial accident had half his face splashed with a mixture of boiling soap and immediately turned to divide help for protection. Contrary to the usual experience, he found virtually no trace of the accident when the hardened soap was peeled from his face. He will tell of his experience and how he treated himself on the Christian Science radio program over station WOR, 710 kc, on Sunday, at 7:45 p. m. The subject of the program is "An Unfailing Refuge."

Plans Setting Curfew

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 26 (AP)—Police Chief Harold F. Kelly says he will set a 9 p. m. curfew for youths under 16 if what he termed juvenile violence continues here. He ordered policemen to summon to youth bureau sessions youngsters in that age group who cannot give a "satisfactory reason" for being out late at night. Kelly acted yesterday after James Murphy and Lowell R. Miles, both 16, and Edward Greenwood, 18, were charged with disorderly conduct in what police said was the invasion of an Eastwood High School classroom Monday.

Written for NEA Service

"What went wrong with this hand?" asks a San Francisco reader. "The defenders began by taking three heart tricks and then shifted to diamonds, putting it up to South to win the rest."

"South won the diamond with the queen, led out the ace of spades to guard against a singleton queen, and entered dummy with a diamond to lead the jack of spades. East covered with the queen, forcing out the king. East was now sure to win the setting trick with the eight of spades."

"South could have made the contract by taking a trump finesse on the first round of that suit instead of on the second round. Yet don't all the books advise us against taking a finesse for the queen on the first round of a suit?"

Our correspondent has unfortunately been reading the wrong books. If you can afford to do so, play the ace or king of a suit before risking a finesse for the queen. That first play of the ace or king may pick up a singleton queen. But remember that this advice begins with the words "if you can afford to do so."

Today's hand shows a case in which you cannot afford to do so. You lose the ability to pick up Q-x-x-x in the East hand, if you begin by leading out the ace or king of spades.

Which danger should you guard against? If West has the singleton queen of spades, you will gain by leading the ace or king of trumps. If West has the singleton 8, 7, 5, or 4 of spades, you will gain by taking a trump finesse on the first round of the suit. It's better to guard against four possibilities than against only one.

Maglie No-Hits Phils

The Barber, 39, Oldest Hurler to Pitch No-Hitter

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Comebacks? Baseball has had 'em. How about Ted Williams, returned from the wars? Or a "washed up" Johnny Mize tagging home runs for the 1950 Yankees? Or Roy Campanella, most valuable again with a healthy thumb last season?

Now it's Sal Maglie—the pappy guy the Giants had enough of; the old man Cleveland couldn't squeeze into its second place pitching staff.

SAL MAGLIE

It was Sal, the onetime Dodger killer, who beat Milwaukee for Brooklyn's over-nigh share of the National League lead two weeks ago. And last night, it was Maglie again, this time using his curve and control to gain his first no-hit, no-run game with a 5-0 masterstroke against Philadelphia that kept the Dodgers within three percentage points of the first place Braves.

At 39, Maglie is the oldest National Leaguer ever to pitch a no-hitter—and ironically, it overshadowed a splendid six-single job by Warren Spahn, another comeback guy, that gave Milwaukee a 7-1 victory over Cincinnati and all but shut the door on Redleg pennant hopes. It was the 20th victory for the 35-year-old, southpaw, prematurely tagged a has-been last season.

So, with only five days remaining, the race looks like this:

W	L	Pct.	GB
Milwaukee	91	60	.603	...
Brooklyn	90	60	.600	1 1/2
Cincinnati	89	63	.586	2 1/2

Even if the Redlegs sweep their remaining two, at Chicago Saturday and Sunday, the Cincy are dead should the Braves win even one of their remaining three, beginning Friday night at St. Louis. Two more victories by Brooklyn, facing Philadelphia again today with a chance to deadlock the Braves before a windup three-game series with Pittsburgh this weekend at Ebbets Field, would clinch Cincy too.

St. Louis clinched fourth place by defeating Chicago 5-1 in a doubleheader opener, then lost to the Cubs 6-2 in the nightcap, cut to 7 1/2 innings by darkness. New York's Giants moved within a game of sixth-place Pittsburgh with a 10-0 decision over the Pirates, who had just taken three of four from Brooklyn.

New York Yankees belted Baltimore 11-6; Cleveland beat Kansas City 4-1 in 10 innings for Early Wynn's 20th; Detroit spilled Chicago 5-3, and Boston whacked Washington 10-4.

Maglie, gaining his third shut-out with his 12th victory, allowed but three base runners—walking two and hitting Richie Ashburn with a two-out, 1-2 pitch in the ninth. He retired the first eight men he faced, gave up a walk to loser Jack Meyer, then knocked off 13 in a row.

Campy Homers
The Dodgers, held to just four hits by three pitchers, scored three runs in the second on two hits—one a two-run homer by Roy Campanella, his 19th. Stan Lopata's error produced two unearned runs in the third.

Dodger Carl Erskine has the only other NL no-hitter this season, beating the Giants May 12 at Ebbets Field. Boston's Mel Parnell gave the AL a no-hitter July 14 against Chicago.

Spahn, missing a shutout on three singles in the third, doubled home two runs for a 3-0 lead that chased Larry Jansen in the second inning. The Braves had 15 hits off six pitchers while creaking Cincinnati's winning streak at six games.

Spahn, a shaky 17-14 last season, now has seven seasons of 20 or more victories—joining Christy Mathewson (13) and Grover Cleveland Alexander (9) in a select NL group. He's also the only Milwaukee pitcher to win a complete game since Labor Day, doing it three times.

Four unearned runs and a triple play won for the Cardinals as bonus boy Lindy McDaniel went the distance for the first time. But bonus kid Don Kaiser then stopped them in the nightcap.

16 Hits for Giants
The Giants had 16 hits, four of them homers, as Johnny Antonelli won his 19th. Willie Mays, hitting his 36th homer, and Red Schoendienst also with a homer, had four hits each.

Bill Skowron drove in five runs and Bob Cerv four for the Yankees as Tom Sturdivant won his 16th on a five-run, two-out rally in the seventh.

Ted Williams drove in four runs with his 24th homer and a bases-loaded walk for Boston's first victory over Pedro Ramos in seven decisions. The homer was Williams' only hit in his last 11 at bats, leaving him six points back of Yankee Mickey Mantle in the race for the league bat crown.

Some 25.7 million horses and mules were used on American farms in 1920 as compared to five million in 1954.

BIG FOUR—Kingston High School will have to cope with this fearsome foursome Friday night at Dietz Stadium when they tackle Port Jervis High in an important DUSO League grid skirmish. The boys are, left to right, Jim Malzahn, Vince 'Barrel' Pagano, Bill Kulkelka and Rusty DeVore. The quartet, all backs, were heroes of Port's 25-0 rout of Nyack last week in the Red Raiders' opener of the season.

At the risk of being trite, and far too early in the season exposing you to the horrible clichés of football journalese and jargon, this really could be "the big one" for Kingston High School. As early as Friday night at Dietz Stadium when the Port Jervis juggernaut rolls into town for DUSO League conflict.

The Red Raiders from the banks of the Neversink, as exports editor Ralph Frederick so fondly referred to them for so many years, are odds on favorites to win every time they step on the gridiron this season.

Coach Roger Robinson has a mere 13 lettermen returning, including ONLY eight varsity regulars. In Vince Pagano and Bill Decker he boasts of a couple of 1955 All-DUSO operators, and if you'll glance elsewhere on these pages you'll note that Mr. Pagano bears a startling resemblance to a combination fire plug and Neanderthal man. And he cavitorts with the fury associated with the ancient monsters of man's early dawn. Besides that, he's one of the nicest chaps you'll find in Port Jervis.

There are others returning like Jim Malzahn, Bill Leicht, Dick Parsons, captain Hackett Bushweller and ends Frank Boyd and John Reillys whose very names stir the souls of folks along the banks of the Neversink. Every statistic that a football agent could possibly conceive points to a Port Jervis pennant, but will they make it?

Kingston High flashed sufficient aptitude against a good Christian Brothers Academy eleven (Albany) to insure a rousing battle Friday night. The Maroons may be the underdogs but they are not beaten.

As game time approaches, Coach Bill Burke doesn't have to exhort the Maroons to win this one for the Gipper. He merely has to remind them of his 1948 powerhouse that walloped Port, 27-0, in the first half of the old round robin at Port Jervis, then suffered a stunning 13-7 loss at Dietz Stadium.

That was one of Burke's mightiest teams. It won seven and lost just that one, while rolling up 232 points to 40 for the enemy. Maybe the 1956 eleven can redeem for their coach the victory he should have won by all standards of reasoning back in 1948.

The contest shapes up as a schoolboy classic worthy of the enthusiastic support of the whole town. Dietz Stadium should be jam-packed for this one. That is, if the folks can tear themselves away from the Dodger-Phillies shenanigans on you know what channel.

That makes the fishing industry a two-billion dollar undertaking. No other sport can make that claim. . . . Higher You Go, The Less Slang: Says Waite Hoyt, the old Yankee pitching star, now a Cincinnati baseball broadcaster. Hoyt advises radio neophytes "Keep it simple. Don't be extravagant with praise or phrase. There are a few broadcasters, not knowing baseball too well, who use slang expressions to identify themselves with the game. The silly part of it is the higher you go in baseball, the less slang is used. When I began broadcasting, I used a lot of strictly dugout terminology. I cut it out when I realized that my listeners don't dig the dugout."

Maroons 1st Home Meet

High School Harriers Face Newburgh Friday at Stadium

On the strength of opening season wins, the Kingston High School-Newburgh Free Academy cross country meet Friday afternoon at Dietz Stadium promises to be an interesting duel.

Both schools posed impressive wins in their debuts, the Maroons vanquishing Middletown 17-40 and NFA defeating Liberty 20-35. Both successes came on foreign courts.

Newburgh swept everything in '55 including the DUSO and Section Nine (Class A) titles. Coach George (lanky) Masterson almost always comes up with a powerful squad and this year is no exception.

KHS Looked Strong

Kingston looked surprisingly strong against the Middies who are perennially tough. Coach G. Warren Kias has a very young squad sprinkled with six lettermen, but none of whom were on the sensational side last season. The lopsided victory over the Middies raised a few eyebrows in these parts and without saying was highly received in KHS quarters.

John Weekly, who is expected again this season to be the Maroons' top miler, and holdover Ray Peterson stepped off the best times in the opening meet. Weekly was the individual winner in the good time, for this stage of the campaign, of 11:49, while Peterson was clocked five seconds slower in finishing second.

Tom Hayes and Captain Dave Beeher took away third and fourth places to give the Maroons a near sweep of the first five finishes. Both of their times were not quite up to those posted by the two pace-setters, but they proved more than adequate in the final tabulations.

Chick Main Hope

NFA's main hope is Jim Chick who captured the Liberty meet over the tough hilly Sullivan County golf course in 15:48. Chick and Dave Fullerton, who didn't compete against the Indians, are the only letter-winners on his squad.

Masterson has come up with a promising sophomore runner in Allan Dorsey. Dorsey lived up to his advance billing by battling Chick all the way and only wound up two seconds behind.

Other Goldbacks who are expected to see action are Alvin Woody, who finished fourth against Liberty, Larry Murray, Jerry Sinnamon and Jack Drennan.

The meet is scheduled to begin at 4 o'clock.

One Shoe Thieves: Bethlehem, Pa. (AP)—Cinderella's prince has nothing on the Bethlehem police in matching shoes to feet to find a mysterious somebody. The Bethlehem authorities reported two thieves literally jumped out of their shoes while they were attempting to steal gasoline. The cause: The gasoline ignited. Found at the scene were one each of a size 9 and a size 7 moccasin—both for the left foot. Police quickly pressed their search for a pair of hop-scotching footpads, using moccasins instead of the traditional glass slipper.

The "boiling oil" used in movie scenes of medieval conflict is actually dry ice and water.

Other Candidates: Other candidates are Charles Baxter, Edward Owens, Lewis Ayres, Anthony Fino, Peter Henry, Harry Osterhoudt, Raymond Savarese, Joseph L. Liberto, Walter Roe Clarke, Brian White and Thomas Callo.

Freeman Hunt is manager of the cross country team. Managers for football are Richard Totino, Ronnie Benevento, Gary Jack Kroh is the Director of Athletics and will coach cross country.

Syracuse Readies For Pitt Contest

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 26 (AP)—Floyd (Ben) Schwartzwalder, Syracuse University football coach, planned contact scrimmages for his seventh-ranked Orange eleven this week in preparation for Saturday's all-important meet with the University of Pittsburgh.

Schwartzwalder put his squad through semi-scrimmage, controlled contact yesterday, but said "you can't face a team like Pitt without having some contact work."

He said his team "took a lot of body battering" as it tripped highly regarded Maryland, 26-12, last Saturday.

Syracuse is ranked seventh in the Associated Press' first weekend poll. However, the tenth-ranked Panthers are a one-touchdown favorite in the game at Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile Pitt coach Johnny Michelosen said his team would show a more diversified attack against the Orange team than it did in edging West Virginia University, 14-13, last Saturday.

"We were pinned deep in our own territory most of the first half," Michelosen said in a reviewing the West Virginia game. But he said the Panthers would gamble and open up more against Syracuse.

Syracuse end Don Althouse, who missed the Maryland game because of an injury, may be available for some punting duties against Pitt, Schwartzwalder said. And Gus Zaso, a fullback who sat out the Maryland contest with an injury, will be in shape for the game Saturday.

Pitt defeated Syracuse, 22-12, last year in Syracuse.

Grenades Kill One

Algiers, Algeria, Sept. 26 (AP)—Several hand grenades were tossed into a city bus here today. One exploded, killing an Arab passenger and injuring six others. Nationalist rebels kept up their violence in the city's suburbs. The men opened fire on a 16-year-old European youth in Bab El Oued, and a few minutes later police shot dead two Arabs who ignored their orders to halt. Police believe they were the youth's attackers.

SPAHN HAPPY AFTER 20TH WIN—Warren Spahn (21), Milwaukee Braves southpaw, smiles happily as he receives congratulations in dressing room at Cincinnati's Crosley Field Sept. 25, immediately after he had posted his 20th win of the season and all but crushed any hope of Cincinnati Redlegs had remaining for the National League pennant. At right is Braves' manager Fred Haney and back of Haney is pitcher Gene Conley. At left is catcher Del Rice and next to him is infielder Frank Torre. Spahn hurled six-hit ball as Braves won, 7-1. It was seventh season in which he has won 20 games. (AP Wirephoto)

Powerhouse Wins Big

Blacktops, Jackets Boulevards Win at Y

Only one night has transpired in the YMCA Autumn "B" League, but Blacktops already have given unmistakable signs of being the loop's big powerhouse.

They rolled over the Ramblers, 72-36, in last night's opener on the Y hardwoods, as three players scored deep in double figures. In other games, Boulevard Gulf nipped Wimpy's No. 2, 46 to 45, and Yellow Jackets trounced Accord, 47-22.

Tomaszski Scores 19

Butch Tomaszski, Blacktop center, hoped 19 points to tie Bucky Miller of the Jackets for individual scoring honors.

Dink Richards (16) and Frank Tiano (10) also sparked the Blacktop triumph. Charlie Marable canned 13 for the Ramblers. Boulevard led Wimpy's, 26-23, at halftime and made the slim lead hold up. Vince Hainer bucketed 16 and John Kelly had 12 for the winners. Joe Schneider tallied 17 and Jim Woods 16 for Wimpy's.

Johnny Burris had 14 points to go with Miller's 19 in the Jacket rout of Accord. Milt Ebert canned 9 for Accord.

Sportsmen's Club Of Saugerties Posts 900 Acres

More than 900 acres in nine parcels of Saugerties area farm lands and wood lots were posted last week, according to a report presented at the regular meeting of the Saugerties Fish and Game Club Monday night.

To Release Birds

The fate of more than 160 pheasants raised by the game club was decided by the members in attendance. Male birds will be released Oct. 13 just prior to the opening of the season. The hen pheasants according to the wishes of the members, were to be released at the discretion of Pheasant Chairman Roy Longendyke.

Frank C. Sloboda, secretary of the club reported to the Freeman this morning that more than 70 hens were released in Saugerties area fields Tuesday evening.

During the report on pheasants it was brought out that the local club would share in the 200 game birds made available by the County Federation.

The pheasants were purchased by the Federation with the balance of the funds derived from the Enabling Act for the propagation of fish and game in Ulster county. Delivery of the birds will be made Sunday, Oct. 2 between 10 and 10:30 a. m. at the ferry slip in Kingston.

Baker 8-5 Pick To Beat Jackson At Forbes Field

Pittsburgh, Sept. 26 (AP)—Bob Baker, confident he's licked his weight problem, is an 8-5 favorite to do the same tonight to Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson in a 12-round outdoor fight that probably means a crack at the heavyweight title for the winner.

The 29-year-old Pittsburgh resident has long been on the fringe of the division's outstanding fighters but overweight—and brittle hands—have kept him from reaching his peak.

With time starting to run out for him, Baker and his handlers are confident that an arduous training routine which has cut his weight to a trim 210-pounds will give him all that's needed to defeat the everpressing Hurricane from Far Rockaway, N. Y., in this return bout.

In Better Shape
The unpredictable Jackson won their first encounter with a 10 round split decision in New York last February. However, Baker's handlers feel his better conditioning (he weighed 215 for the last fight) and the longer distance will aid him in the scrap with the lighter Jackson. Baker will have a 16-pound weight edge over Jackson who was expected to weigh in at about 194 pounds.

But Lippy Briedart, Jackson's manager, said "He beat Baker before and he can do it again."

Baker has a 45-6-1 record with 19 knockouts to his credit. Jackson is 27-5-1 with 12 kayos.

Jackson is ranked No. 3 and Baker No. 4 behind Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson in the scramble for the heavyweight title vacated by Rocky Marciano.

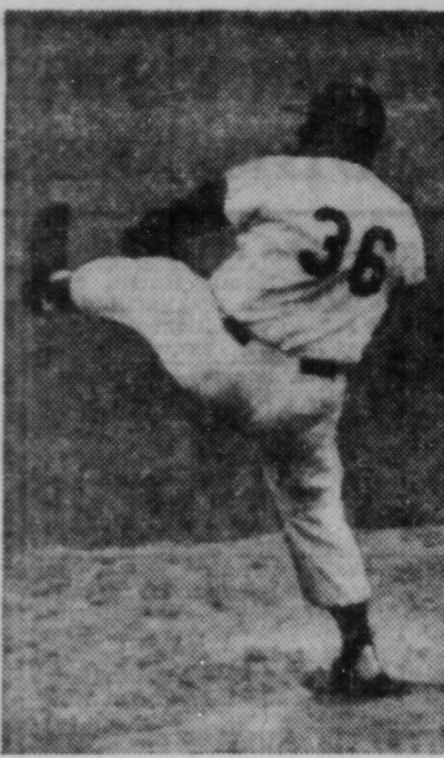

Tonight's bout will be broadcast (ABC-TV and radio, 9 p. m., EST) with Pittsburgh area TV screens blacked out from Forbes Field.

Typhoon Is Spotted

Guam, Sept. 26 (AP)—Typhoon Ivy, packing winds of 75 miles an hour, was spotted today by a U. S. Air Force reconnaissance plane 260 miles east-northeast of Iwo Jima. Fleet weather central said the typhoon was moving west at 10 miles an hour.

PITCHING ACE—Don Newcombe gets set, rears back and fires another strike for the Dodgers. The big right-hander leads both major leagues. The Brooklyn club hasn't had a winner like him in 32 years. He is the type of fast ball pitcher who leads to World Series.

Maglie New Idol Of Ebbets Field

Brooklyn, Sept. 26 (AP)—Sal (The Barber) Maglie has done it again.

The ancient mound magician pitched a 5-0 no-hit victory against Philadelphia last night to keep Brooklyn on the heels of the Milwaukee Braves and make it possible for the Dodgers to climb into a first place tie today.

Manager Walter Alston, after blessing the day the Dodgers acquired the former Dodger killer, nominated Don Newcombe, his 26-game winner, to hurl against Robin Roberts and the Phillies this afternoon.

Newcombe will work with a two day rest, one day less than Maglie had when the 39-year-old righthander pitched his masterpiece which enabled the Dodgers to hang within a half game of the Braves who earlier had all but knocked Cincinnati out of the National League pennant race with a 7-1 triumph. Sal was at his magnificent best as he faced 29 batters, permitting only three to reach base—hitting one batter and walking two. A double play followed one of the walks.

Only once did the Phillies come close to connecting safely. That was in the second inning when Willie Jones drove a hard grounder up the middle of the diamond. Shortstop Pee Wee Reese, playing in his 2,000th major league game, darted to his left for a fine stop and throw to retire the batter.

Maglie was inclined to minimize what may have been the best pitched game of his brilliant career but it couldn't have come at a better time. The chilled crowd of 15,204 stood up and cheered his every pitch in the ninth inning. When he finally disposed of Marv Blaylock for the final out, the delirious fans, who so often jeered and hooted him when he was with the Giants, swarmed out on the field, all seeking to hug their new idol.

New railway freight cars today cost about $8,000 each.

No animal is really smart. If they were it'd be the critters, not the humans, that were running things. Animals do, however, have various degrees of instinctive or acquired cunning, and the old argument about whitetail and muleys is really a debate about cuteness.

From where this correspondent sits, the vote goes firmly on the side of the Virginia deer, the whitetail. For my dollars, the snowy-stemmed gentleman with the long white flag and the long hard name of odocoileus virginianus has more cuteness packed into one leg than the average mule deer could tote in his whole body.

Rocky Deer Cute

That's not to knock the big-eared, beautifully - antlered deer of the Rocky Mountain states. He's a fine trophy. Taken before the rut when he's fattened up after a summer of lying around under the rimrock, he's fine eating. The style of massive rack a mule deer can grow in limestone areas like the Kaibab, certain sections of Wyoming, Colorado, and Utah makes for a lot more oh's and ah's than the relatively delicate basket of a whitetail's antlers ever could. But I don't think he's as smart as his Virginia cousin.

This past fall, along with custom gun-builder Frank Pachmayr and a couple of frustrated race-drivers, I jeeped back into some country on the western slope of Colorado, down beyond Meeker, where there were mule deer and then some. We'd see 50 to 75 a day, sometimes more.

That is moderately open country in that the cedars are sparse, and the rugged ridges and draws are clothed only in sage and buck brush. But in many areas that buck brush was higher than a man's head and jungle-thick, almost everywhere dense and tall enough to hide deer in dozens.

But nary a mule deer tried a sneak when we worked the draw heads and pockets. They busted blindly out in high gear, laying themselves open to cross-canyon shots almost every time, usually making one foolish stop for a look back during the run. No cuteness just speed and desperation.

Under the circumstances, possibly because so many of his breed have for so long lived right next door to man and learned something of his hunting habits and abilities, the smart whitetail buck would have let the does go charging out in plain sight. He himself, fully aware of where his hunters were, would have made a discreet and hidden exit out through a back door—a back door he had thoughtfully located for himself before he lay down for a siesta.

All too many whitetail hunters have found the tracks to show how they were fooled by such cuteness. But not once in a decade will you find a mule buck pulling such clever stunts.

'Hot' Town

The town of Truth Or Consequences, New Mexico, is underlaid with hot rocks, and a temperature of 120 degrees is encountered at a depth of 120 feet.

Feather Problem

Oklahoma City (AP)—Pat Murphy, Oklahoma City park director, is up a tree with a ticklish bird problem—feathers. Literally hundreds of thousands of pesky starlings live in the trees in Civic Center here and during the molting season feathers drop like snow. The citizens are unhappy, and Murphy can't find a way to keep the well-kempt lawns from being covered solid with feathers. As soon as one layer is cleaned up, another falls.

The answers to everyday insurance problems*
By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: Does the "actual cash value" mentioned in Fire Insurance policies mean that if my furniture burned I would only get as much for it as I would at a forced sale?

ANSWER: Not at all. The insuring company wants you to be as well off after settlement as before the fire. Their settlements are based on normal market value at the time of loss.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION of ANY KIND.

Typhoon Rakes Okinawa; Japan Braces for Blow

Naha, Okinawa, Sept. 26 (F)—Mountainous waves and 130 mile an hour winds drove two ships aground today as typhoon Harriet churned across the East China Sea.

The storm kept rescue vessels from reaching 106 passengers stranded on the Japanese liner Hakusan Maru and 34 crewmen aboard the battered British freighter Bedford Earl.

The typhoon raked Okinawa and then turned northward toward Japan. The Japanese braced for a heavy blow up their east coast tomorrow. The storm center was 185 miles south southeast of Kagoshima Japan today.

Eighth of Season
Harriet was the season's eighth big typhoon and the second to strike Okinawa in less than a month. One Okinawan was reported hurt. Only minor property damage was reported in contrast to the more than 20 million dollars damage inflicted by typhoon Emma on this U. S. island base earlier this month.

U. S. Air Force forecasters predicted it would reach a point 150 miles south southeast of Tokyo by 3 p. m. tomorrow. Its winds dropped to about 105 MPH as it traveled northward.

Huge waves were pounding the 7,129-ton Bedford Earl to pieces on a coral reef at Ike islet, 15 miles off Okinawa.

Flossy May Cause Coastal Flooding

Flossy is expected to pass 250 miles southeast of the city at about noon tomorrow, the weather bureau said.

Tides of from one to two feet above normal were predicted.

Increasing cloudiness was forecast for today, with cloudy weather tonight and a chance of rain around noon tomorrow. Afternoon temperatures in the mid 60s were forecast for both today and tomorrow.

The mercury is expected to dip to near 50 tonight.

Saugerties CC Drive Returns Show 14 Signed

A total of 14 new members were reported signed Tuesday during the first day of a concerted membership campaign conducted by Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, according to Albert J. Cawein, executive secretary.

The drive got underway at a "kick off" breakfast held Tuesday morning at Candyland Restaurant at which 12 members of the membership committee attended.

25 Per Cent Contacted

Mr. Cawein indicated that the early returns were very encouraging due to the fact that only about 25 per cent of the contacts had been made on Tuesday.

At the breakfast meeting, prepared cards listing 77 prospective members were distributed to the committee attending and three others unable to attend. Mr. Cawein outlined the aims of the Chamber which could be used by the canvassers in presenting the Chamber program to prospective members.

He emphasized that the Chamber was not looking for a donation but was asking those most likely to benefit, to make an investment in their community.

Those attending were Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., president; Arthur H. London, vice-president; Norman Reamer, director; Herbert Lachmann, John Offermann, Frank Costello, Raymond C. Ruby, Vernon Joe Benjamin, Franklyn P. Clum Sr., Robert G. Schron, editor of Saugerties Daily Post and George Prygou. Those canvassing but unable to attend were Ben Sanford, Ben Fein and Mrs. Irene Roming.

During the indoctrination Mr. Cawein announced that the new members signed during the campaign would be special guests of the Chamber at the next meeting, Wednesday, Oct. 17.

Miss Saugerties, Miss Lauretta Tierney will be present at that time to present each new member with a membership card and plaque.

'Hot Spots' Attacked in Coast Blaze

San Bernardino, Calif., Sept. 26 (F)—Fire-fighting crews today attacked "hot spots" in the 10,500-acre burned area of the now halted but still dangerous San Bernardino mountains forest blaze.

The six-day-old fire northeast of here was held in check last night and the U. S. Forest Service reported it surrounded in all sectors.

But Elmer Osterman, fire information officer, said: "We are keeping our fingers crossed. Sudden winds could change the outlook drastically."

Long Patrol Needed

Some of the more than 1,000 men who fought the flames were released. Those still on the fire lines are stamping out flare fires and widening fire breaks.

Osterman said it would be necessary to patrol the fire area for a month.

Evacuated residents were being permitted to return to their homes but were being warned to keep their automobiles parked and ready for a hasty retreat if fire should break out again.

The flames were set Friday by a crashing jet plane from which the pilot parachuted safely. A number of mountain homes were destroyed and whole communities were threatened.

C-H Contesting Assessments in Town of Esopus

A certiorari proceeding brought by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation to review assessments of property in the town of Esopus was continued today before an official referee. Robert Stapleton appeared for the town of Esopus and Gould and Wilkie for the petitioner.

Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation has contended for the past several years that its installations in the town have been over assessed. A question as to where the town line lies on streams where the company has installations is also to be resolved.

Objection is made generally by the company to all assessments, which it alleges are too high, but the main objection is in regard to certain of the larger installations on the streams. Several hearings have been held in the matter.

Ship Goes Aground

Tokyo, Sept. 26 (F)—A Japanese liner with 106 passengers aboard ran aground in the teeth of Typhoon Harriet between Japan and Okinawa today, the Japanese Coast Guard reported. The 4,300-ton Hakusan Maru, running between Kagoshima, Japan, and Okinawa, radioed an SOS, saying it went aground in shallow water off Amami Oshima island. "So far we have been unable to reach the vessel to evacuate the passengers," coast guard headquarters said.

Stockholm Off Sea Lane When Collision Came

New York, Sept. 26 (F)—The third mate of the Stockholm says his ship was steaming 19½ miles north of the recommended sea lane when it knifed into the Andrea Doria.

Ernst Carstens-Johannsen, 26, said he was following an east-bound course ordered by his captain.

The third mate continued his testimony yesterday at a pre-trial federal hearing into the fatal collision of the Swedish passenger ship and the sleek Italian liner Doria.

Course Major Issue

The collision off Nantucket Island, Mass., the night of July 25 cost 50 lives and sent the Doria to the bottom.

The course of the Stockholm is a major issue in the case. The Italian Line charges that the collision occurred because the Stockholm was miles north of the regular eastbound Atlantic shipping lane and in the path of westbound vessels.

In support of that contention Eugene Underwood, counsel for the Italian Line, quoted from a handbook for mariners issued by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey. The handbook outlines recommended east and west sea lanes that are about 20 miles apart.
